GO! Borderless
MUSEUM CONFERENCE
Borderless Museums. Redefining Museum Narratives and Inclusivity

18–21 May 2025
Nova Gorica – Gorizia
ECoC GO! 2025

ABOUT

In 2025, the prestigious title of European Capital of Culture will be shared by Chemnitz, Germany, and an unprecedented cross-border collaboration between the cities of Nova Gorica in Slovenia, and Gorizia in Italy. This partnership marks the first "borderless" European Capital of Culture, symbolising a groundbreaking cultural union. Under the slogan "GO! Borderless", Nova Gorica and Gorizia will join forces to create an innovative cultural experience that transcends borders, inviting everyone to explore and celebrate the rich, intertwined heritage of both cities.

The symbolic significance of this partnership is particularly striking. This region, which peaceful coexistence, multilingualism, and multiculturalism, was devastated by the First and Second World Wars. Awarding the European Capital of Culture title to these two bordering towns, long divided by history, reconnects them with their common roots and past glories. It opens the door to renewed peaceful coexistence and creates a model for dialogue and exchange – a vital alternative in Europe's challenging times.

At the heart of this initiative is the creation of EPIC (European Platform for the Interpretation of the 20th Century), a participatory museum designed to promote cultural dialogue and shared democratic values. Conceived as a dynamic cultural hub, EPIC will use participatory methods to empower the local border communities to share their stories, experiences and perspectives. It represents a departure from the divisive narratives of the past, focusing on amplifying the diverse perspectives within the community. More than just a cultural space, it aims to be a beacon of unity, creating a participatory museum for the people, shaped by the people.

This conference seeks to explore and redefine the narratives told by museums, with a focus on inclusivity. It will examine how museums can move away from traditional models to become truly inclusive educational spaces, fostering global understanding and collaboration.

Our goal is to facilitate the exchange of ideas, best practices, and expertise among museum professionals from diverse backgrounds. This international conference will explore the potential of a paradigm shift, one that values personal narratives and addresses issues that are often omitted, erased, or difficult to discuss in contemporary societies.

We will explore how national narratives should be rethought, who gives voice to the unheard and vulnerable, and reflect on how personal encounters can be the key to understanding our rapidly changing world. This is particularly important as we witness the resurgence of antisemitism, racial prejudice, stereotypes and hate speech.
